Mr. J. B. Crouch, of the Moundsville Commercial, has bought the interest of W. W. Evans & Bro, in that paper and will hereafter own and control the paper. The Commercial is a well edited paper, and well deserves the support it is receiving.

testimony of his friends and relatives established an alibiand the young man was aquitted. In a short time Fogler was sentenced to be hanged and the day of excention fixed. Then it was that a great many of the citizens of Washington became loud in their indignant condemnation of the conduct of the lawyers, who they said had contrived to get Fogler's neck into the halter and left him to his fate in order to save the son of the rich and powerful William Montgomery. So great was the clamor against at least two of the lawyers in the case than an investigation was ordered by the court, the result of which was that the names of the two were stricken from the roll of attorneys. Examinations of school teachers are now going on in Washington county, Pa. There is to be an examination at West Alexander on the 22d and at West Middletown on the 23d. All applicants must have taught three terms, and furnish a recommendation signed by the directors of the

THE Huntington Advertiser (Dem.) voices in its last issue a complaint that has been heard again and again of late, viz.: that the Union element in the Democratic neys.
On the day of Fogler's execution he published a full confession of his crime, in which he implicated "Babe" Montgomery Since that time "Babe" has been a vagabond on the face of the earth. His fathe ranks of the West Virginia Democracy is discriminated against by the Confederate element. If we are correctly informed, the Hon. Okey Johnson made this same the Hon. Okey Johnson made this same complaint very distinctly and pointedly in a recent conversation at the Capitol. The Advertiser suggests that in this campaign the nominations be divided equally between the two elements.

The Springfield Republican, summing up the Oredit Mobilier charges against lives.

"The phamplet of Judge Poland's committee tells about the whole story, and leaves the controversy right where any future investigation has got to leave it—as a simple question of veracity between Garfield and Oakes Ames. Ames assented to Garfield's version once, and swore to it with some expressions of uncertainty. Afterward he became more certain and denied Garfield's story. There has been a pretty general belief that Ames perjured himself to shield some. He must have perjured himself once about Garfield. Whether it was in his favor or against him will probably never be ascertained by any human tribunal.

THE DEMOCRATIC SITUATION

As Seen by Charles Nordhoff at Washim will probably be no opposition to him in the convention. It is believed that he will consent, and that his formal assent has by this time been given. In that case the West will claim the Vice Presidency, and Thurman and Payne, of Ohio; Hendricks and McDonald, of Indians; Morrison, Palmer and Judge Davis, of Illinois, are spoken of for this place.
